PUBLISHED: 21:03 AEDT, 29 April 2021 | UPDATED: 21:26 AEDT, 29 April 2021

George Calombaris has kept a low profile following his departure from MasterChef Australia in 2019 and the underpayment scandal of his restaurants.

But the 42-year-old couldn't turn down the opportunity to give back to the community.

On Thursday, he joined other celebrities to make 6000 sandwiches for children in need with T-House founder Tina Nettlefold and founder of Eat Up charity Lyndon Galea, at Half Acre in Melbourne.
